The Sentry Media Hub is a platform designed to store, share and serve IP camera video, digital videos, movies, music and images to streaming devices that may also be used as a standalone media player or for streaming. The quiet, stylish case will be right at home with existing audio and video equipment. 4K video support, built in Wifi and Bluetooth are standard and Burr Brown digital-to-analog converters (DAC) are optional.

When combined with your preferred media software (not included), the Sentry Media Hub provides a high-end, reliable and unique media solution.
